

Youth Folk Opportunities around England 2024

This directory is produced as part of the English Folk Dance and Song Society's National Youth Folk Ensemble programme, which aims to promote, develop and link youth folk music activities across England.

There are lots of ways to get involved in folk music through a wide range of organisations in England. Here we share a selection of regional and national opportunities for young people who play or are interested in exploring folk and traditional music. These include folk bands, summer schools, competitions, courses, bursaries, and creative learning projects.

If you would like to add to this directory in the future, or if you're interested in finding out more about youth folk music, please contact ensemble@efdss.org

The English Folk Dance and Song Society (EFDSS) has compiled these listings in good faith. However it cannot guarantee the accuracy of any information listed here, or the quality and safety of the activities. Please contact individual organisations for information about their programmes and safeguarding policies.

At the English Folk Dance and Song Society, we champion the folk arts at the heart of England's rich and diverse cultural landscape.

We deliver programmes of learning and participation and artists development:

- through our arts venue, Cecil Sharp House
- through our library and archive, the Vaughan Williams Memorial Library
- and at a range of venues across England, and sometimes beyond.

We frequently work in partnership with arts, education and heritage organisations.
